"BECOME A MILLIONAIRE"

by Mikk Talpsepp at Suntec

One of the youngest hedge fund managers tells his story how he started trading with less than US$1000 to make his first million by the age of 25. He started his hedge fund at the age of 30.

Synopsis: The story begins in 2003 and it's a journey full of struggle, opportunities, big profits and losses. At the age of 19 Mikk started selling ice cream as an entrepreneur and used the little profit to start trading stocks and options. The story unfolds the development of Mikk's character, which allowed him to become the 7th wealthiest individual investor in Estonia by 2010 after the market crash of 2007-2009.

Prior to founding his hedge fund, assets under Mikk's management gained an average of 52.35% per year from 2003 to 2014 beating stock market returns 80 times. In 2016 his hedge fund made 38.92%, profiting both from Trump and Brexit. You will get his 10 rules of investing. Behind every rule there is a story like in the movie "Slumdog Millionaire".

The Secrets of the Wealthiest Investors

Studies show that the richest 1% live on average 15 years more than the poorest

Mikk Talpsepp

According to the Health Inequality Project the richest American men live 15 years longer than the poorest, while the richest women live 10 years longer.

You could expect the wealthiest people to live 2-3 years longer, but 15 – this is a significant difference. So, becoming wealthy increases the probability of seeing our grandchildren growing up tremendously. Wealth can increase life expectancy even more than regular training and healthy diets, although wealthy people tend to have a healthier lifestyle as well.

How to reach the top 1% and live 10-15 years longer?

One of the world's most loved success coaches Brian Tracy carried out a study on millionaires and billionaires by asking about their secrets and how they made it to the top 1%. First, he found out that 87% of millionaires and billionaires were self-made, starting with zero in their bank account to become the wealthiest persons in the world. The second thing he found out was that all the wealthiest people studied from other successful people – on what their routines were, how they thought, how they created value to the world, and how they helped the society. Soon, they became wealthy as well.

This year everybody will have a chance to study about the wealthiest and the most successful people in the world from Brian Tracy himself. He will give a total of 7 speeches on the stage of World Wealth Creation Conference 2017, which will be held on November 28-30 November 2017 in Singapore. Besides Mr. Tracy, investing stars like Jim Rogers, Marc Faber, Dr. Tan Chong Koay, Qi Wang and others will share their best insights and knowledge at the event.

How did these people make their wealth and become successful?

Well, we might know that Jim Rogers started one of the first truly global investment funds together with George Soros, making 4200% return in the first 10 years and achieved 3 Guinness World Records. A Swiss investor Marc Faber correctly forecasted the Black Monday of 1987, made huge profits with the burst of the Japanese bubble in 1990, and with the collapse of US gaming stocks in 1993, he also foresaw the Asia-Pacific crises of 1997/98, saving his clients tons of money. A Russian investor Charles Henri Hirsch made an incredible 8025% in 7 years for his hedge fund. An Olympic Champion Gerd Kanter wrote down 15 steps and rules to becoming an Olympic Champion 7 years later. A Serial entrepreneur Wayne Chang started to understand wealth creation rules by the age of 7 to 10, while his schoolmates were still playing ball. All these people's stories and achievements might be different in many ways, but they all did one thing in common – they learned from other wealthy and successful people and became wealthy as well.

All these mentioned stars will be speaking at World Wealth Creation Conference, and participants will get a once in a lifetime opportunity to learn and connect with these wealthy and extremely successful people.

Recently I visited Poland to listen to Anton Kreil, ex Goldman Sachs trader, who shared the secrets of the most successful traders. He has said "almost everything you are taught by brokers and trading educators will never make you a successful trader". He acted contrary to that as he founded the Institute of Trading and started sharing the real success principles of successful traders and investors. At World Wealth Creation Conference, he will give 3 speeches, starting with "The Shocking Truth about Trading".

When I learned the stories of the most successful traders and investors, some clear rules started to unfold. Success does not come with just taking more risks; it comes with the stability. It might be "the Warren Buffet of Asia" Dr. Tan Chong Koay or "the value investing wizard from Brazil" Ralph Gustavo Rosenberg, who could truly enhance the understanding of value-investing principles. These two superstars have a lot to share at World Wealth Creation Conference, since they have beaten the market tremendously by making a fortune even on flat or downward markets.

Living 10-15 years longer by becoming wealthy

There are many reasons why wealth increases life expectancy. More wealth helps to create more value to the world. The wealthy see more, do more, help more people and spend more time with their family and loved ones. All this creates more happiness and give you the ability to do things you choose with love, passion and creativity. All of this can be learned at World Wealth Creation Conference, where you will get the proven, practical techniques and ideas from more than 50 wealthy people which you can test on yourself and see if the saying "people who you spend time with, will have an impact on you as well" is true. So, let's spend some time together with these successful investors and entrepreneurs and learn their ideas and skills to create wealth at a higher pace, and more importantly, to steadily live 10-15 years longer.
